5.1 Contract Period and Pricing of Renewal Periods

Unless otherwise agreed, the Contract is concluded for a period of one year and shall be prolonged by one year at a time, unless terminated by notice in writing at least two (2) months before the expiry of the then current Contract period. To the extent applicable, Customer hereby grants to Vaisala a limited, nonexclusive license to use the data and related information provided by Customer to Vaisala during the term of the Contract. Creative Work shall not be considered a work made for hire for copyright or any other purposes. All rights not expressly granted by the Contract are reserved by Vaisala. Customer understands and agrees that the rights granted hereby are limited to the Information identified in the Contract, and that Vaisala has other products and services, and that this Contract does not provide Customer with any rights in such other products or services of Vaisala. Customer will comply with all such applicable federal, state and local statutes, rules and regulations with respect to Customer's use of the Information and Creative Works and the performance of Customer's obligations hereunder.

The foregoing indemnity shall not apply to (a) a Claim, damage, loss, liability, cost or expense to the extent attributable to the negligent activities or intentional misconduct of any of Customer Indemnified Parties, (b) where any such infringement, misappropriation, or violation would not have occurred but for Customer's modification of Information provided to Customer or the Creative Works or Customer's combination of Information or Creative Works with any hardware, software or service not provided by Vaisala or (c) Claims by entities belonging to the same group of companies with the Customer or otherwise associated with any of the Customer Indemnified Parties.

If Information or a Creative Work becomes the subject of a Claim against a Customer Indemnified Party, then Vaisala shall also do, at its own expense and option, at least one of the following: (i) procure for Customer the right to continue to use the Information or Creative Work at no additional cost to Customer for such right, (ii) replace the Information or Creative Work with a non-infringing product while maintaining the essential specifications of the Information or Creative Work, (iii) modify the Information or Creative Work so that it becomes non-infringing while maintaining the essential specifications of the Information or Creative Work, and/or (iv) refund to Customer a pro-rated portion of the applicable price paid to Vaisala for the Information or Creative Work, in which case Customer will cease all use of the Information or Creative Work.

The foregoing states Vaisala's entire liability and Customer's sole and exclusive remedies with respect to any infringement or misappropriation of any intellectual property rights of any third party.

Each party shall hold harmless, defend and indemnify the other party and its respective directors, officers, members, managers, employees, consultants, contractors, and agents from and against any and all third party claims, demands, suits, actions, or proceedings (and resulting costs, expenses and liabilities), which arise from personal injury, death, or tangible property loss or damage attributed to, or caused by, either party's negligent performance under this Contract or by Information supplied by Vaisala (including latent defects in such Information) through the term of the Contract and for a period of two (2) years following the expiry or termination of the Contract. The foregoing indemnity shall not apply to the extent that such injury, death, tangible property loss or damage is caused in whole or in part by the willful misconduct or gross negligence of the party seeking to be indemnified.

Customer shall have full responsibility for obtaining any export and import licenses and other authorizations required to export, import and use the Information.
